- After extended time periods without any movement, self-winding watches will need to be wound and readjusted. Watch winders provide an elegant solution. The ZBEW 5 model is also suitable for larger or heavier watches. Varying rotational movements that simulate periods of resting and sleep are preprogrammed. This watch winder is visually impressive thanks to a modern design, the beautiful details and its high-quality workmanship. A front cover with inset glass protects the rotors when not in use.
